Build the foundation for a solid career in the construction industry!

Bricklayers are skilled physical workers who have a talent for precision. They often work outdoors, with their hands and a number of tools, to properly construct a project. You'll learn techniques for reading blueprints, cutting, mortar, wall building, masonry repair, rigging and scaffolding. Every day on the job site, bricklayers are rewarded with the opportunity to see exactly how their work is progressing. As the construction industry continues to grow, skilled masonry professionals are in high demand.
